WHY USE AN ARCHITECT ?

These days there are many people offering to design buildings. However, Architects still remain the best placed people to help you. Here are a few reasons why:

Architects can save you time:
An Architect can take the lead role in your building project, giving you more time to concentrate on other things.

Architects can save you money:
A well-designed building can be economic to run, and is often worth more if you sell it in the future.

Architects solve problems creatively:
Architects are highly trained professionals who will approach your project with imagination.

Architects can manage your project from start to finish:
Architects can help you assemble the right team for the job (as many projects require input from other professionals). They'll also help find contractors at a good price (often through competitive tendering) and can oversee the building phase of the project.

Architects are a worth while investment:
Good advice has it's price, but the price of skimping on design quality is a lot higher. Design Fees constitute a small fraction of the overall construction cost. Good design can improve your building and can save you money.

All Architects are highly trained, abide by a strict Code of Conduct and must be registered with the ARB (Architects Registration Board). You can check the Register at www.arb.org.uk
